

Welcome from Principal Jim Rigg

Dear Friends of Divine Redeemer,

In an era when our children face mixed messages from society, the media and their peers, it is critical that we provide quality, moral education for our children. As a Catholic School, Divine Redeemer is poised to meet the demands of the ever-expanding needs of our children. We are dedicated to providing an excellent, well-rounded education to our students. We strive to build community among our parents, family members, and stake-holders. We provide our students with an array of extra-curricular and co-curricular activities.

Most of all, however, we offer an education that upholds the example of Jesus Christ. We are driven by our Catholic mission to serve all students, from any background in an environment of Christian dignity, respect and love.

At Divine Redeemer, we are blessed with an outstanding faculty that is competent, qualified, and caring. We are blessed with the support and participation from our parents. We are blessed with a loving community, and with a parish, pastor, Bishop who uphold the importance of Catholic education.

We hope that you will join us in this mission. As Principal, I invite you to spend some time reviewing our website. We would love for you to visit our school and meet with our students, parents and teachers. Our tradition of excellence and long-standing reputation in this community speaks for the quality of education our students receive. If you are interested in visiting us, please call us at (719) 471-7771.

For we, together, are the light of God.

Yours in Christ,
Jim Rigg
